“ She was not only my sister, she was my twin. She was the one I would come to if I ever had a problem or needed some advice. I never got a chance to tell her I love her one last time. I am gonna miss her goofy smile and her goofy laugh. The last time I talked to her was the day before testing started and I never knew that was the last conversation I was ever going to have with her. I miss you so much sis and I know you watching over me and our siblings. I am surely going to miss coming over during the summer and spending the night I love you sis and I will see you again some day.

“ I had the honour of meeting this beautiful, sweet, kind and selfless young lady through the SPY program at CSE. She made everyone of the kids and I'm sure the parents also feel like they were the best... Or atleast that's how i feel about her. She was the best!!! She always had something good to say about my Isaac and a great big hug for him as he was leaving to go home. She complimented me often, always nice things to say. Although we don't understand why God took her home at such a young age, we can see her again in heaven. We love you Miss Jessica... Isaac, Sherry and jimmy.

“ Jessica was a sweet human being to be around. And we may not be able to comprehend what had happened. I know I can't. But she encouraged those around her, and always could make you laugh. She made a impact in my life, and many others. She may be gone, but she is in the heart of every LFO student. She touched many students lives. She always had a way of understanding, and helping. She will forever be remembered.

“ Jessica always helped me with my toxic home life and toxic relationship I was in. She always welcomed me with open arms and she always shared her story with me to make me feel stronger. She showed me I had a voice and she taught me how to use it. If it wasn't for her I wouldn't be the young woman I am today. I love you Jessica, and I will see you again

She was so sweet and always looking for better ways to help our kids not just at school but situations at home to. She was always there with open arms when the kids wanted love and attention. She always complimented people whether it was the shirt you we're wearing or the way you fixed your hair , she always had something nice to say. I knew her from school as well but really got to know her over the past year and I'm so thankful for that opportunity. She will be missed by so many . this isn't good bye its see you later because we will see her again one day. RIP angel. Love Kara and BellaKate Oxford

“ Sometimes life just throws you curveballs that will knock you off your feet and my Perry family has had a rough few months! A while back we lost a cousin in Florida to a motorcycle accident and we just lost another cousin in Georgia early yesterday morning to an automobile accident. Sweet Jessica... always putting others first, always making sure your dad and brothers were taken care of while still pestering them and giving them a hard time, always making people smile with your encouraging words. You impacted people with your contagious positivity and smile! If you have taught us anything it is that we only have one life, one chance to make a difference.... leave a legacy! We will miss you!

“ She was the only counselor at camp that paid attention to me and made me feel truly loved and valued.. My heart breaks but is comforted in that I know she has gone home to God.. I had been wanting to reach out to her the past few days just to thank her and tell her the impact she had on me.. it hurts that I was too late, but I know she knows.. Jessica is a bright light that will always shine in my heart and in the hearts of many others.. She is a beautiful soul that we will never forget. My heart and prayers go out to the family and those who were close to her..

“ Jessica was so full of life and such a beautiful soul. She lit up a room everywhere she went, with her warm smile, or a comforting or encouraging word. Or her simple being silly she always brung hope and joy everywhere. She will be missed and remembered by many! You hear and see people say this so often but in this case it was so very true.

“ We grew up together and you supported me and my family through hard times. Even when you were hurting you always had a smile to give people hope. I am amazed at how you lived your life and you've inspired me in every way. Thank you for everything, rest well ♡

Audra Guerrero - May 31 at 03:22 PM

“ Jessica was one of the only people at LFO who made me feel welcome after finding out I was pregnant my senior year of high school. Students became so hateful towards me and Jessica gave me a hoodie from her office so I would feel more comfortable. Jessica would also bring me fruits and cereal during each of my classes because she wanted to make sure I felt okay. She was the purest soul I've ever met and the world is truly not the same without her.. After graduation, Jessica and I remained close. She would drive me to work sometimes and we would listen to music and talk about high school memories. I feel physically sick because of this.. You will be forever missed, Jessica.

Kara Gunter - May 31 at 02:52 PM

“ I've known Jessica for a long time. Jessica had such a positive impact on sooo many. She made a beautiful necklace for our oldest daughter, who was having some problems. Our daughter spent nearly every day at school with Jessica at lunch. She had such an impact during such a difficult time for us and helped our oldest during very difficult time and transition. Jessica will be dearly missed. Forever loved. Never forgotten. We love you, girl. Rest in Peace, love <3

Jessica Talley - May 31 at 02:03 PM

“ Jessica was simply one of the kindest purest souls I've ever had the privilege of meeting. She made this world a bright place, with her smile and laugh and adventures. Jessica was one of the first people to really talk to me about the Lord. I can't believe she is gone. She finally found the peace she so desperately craved. I love you beautiful. Be free.
