“ Mr. Haney, I am so sorry to read of Anna's passing and I extend my condolences to the entire family. This promise from Jehovah god has brought me much comfort and I hope it does the same for you. Psalm 34:18 says: Jehovah is close to the brokenhearted; He saves those who are crushed in spirit. May you be comforted by his words during your time of bereavement.

“ I don't think I will ever forget the moment when Anna walked into my office a couple months back. I had heard she had made it back from Houston but I couldn't believe that she had been able to overcome so much. She said she was going to make it back to work and less than a month ago she worked in both my pharmacy and front store.

From talking to and being around Anna, I know she just wanted to be normal: she was a hard worker, she wanted to do the same things other 19 year olds did, and she was a great friend to Summer (Knight). I remember talking to her one day about how she switched up the hair style of her wig.

Anna was anything but normal. She was an extraordinary person. She fought through so much and she remained strong through every trial she faced. I feel lucky to have known her over this last year and I am glad that her pain has finally ended and she is in a better place.

“ Anna Haney's long battle is over. She has gone home to be with her momma and her Lord. She is finally at peace. No more pain for this sweet baby girl. Her glory has arrived.

Anna was an inspiration that you rarely see up close. I've always known that my niece was a kind, bright, beautiful young lady even before her battle began. But what I saw in this young lady during her battle should inspire us all. She never wavered in her faith. She never lost her optimism. She never lost hope that her God would heal her. She was right. She is healed now.

She has left us 10 years after her mom, my sweet sister, also left us. I take so much comfort in knowing that, as I write this, they are still hugging it out in heaven. Tears of joy are flowing from Stephanie Lee tonight. Her baby is home.

We've also seen the kindness of the human spirit as her battle became more public. So many people rallied around her, sending well wishes and raising money so that financial burdens were the last of her worries during her battle. I saw first hand how grateful she was.

I love you Anna. I can't wait until the day I see you again.

I never got to meet Anna in person but she was my Facebook friend. I followed her during her long battle with cancer and to see such a brave and beautiful soul will stay in my mind forever. My heart is breaking for her family. Sending my love and prayers to all of the Haney family. I pray God will wrap his arms around Rusty and comfort him as he walks this terrible road of pain. RIP BEAUTIFUL ANGLE
