“ When I heard that you were gone, I could not breathe. My heart was broken and immediately felt a hole from your absence. I wish I could hear your voice one more time. In the 6 years I've known you, you have become so special to me. You were so filled with wisdom and kindness. I would stay and talk with you for hours. I love how you loved and cared for your family and for everyone else. You were my go to person for advice about everything. You just had a matter of fact and sensible way of looking at things that just always made perfect sense! I will always treasure our many many long conversations about life and all the laughs we shared. You taught me so much about being compassionate and considerate of others. You knew how to care for people in such a proper way. You were so thoughtful and always asked and remembered things about my kids. I will miss you my sweet sweet friend but I know I will see you again one day. You will always be one of my very favorite patients, even though you became more my friend than anything else. I love you always!

I will miss our long talks, friendship, but I will always have our memories. She will definitely be missed by the staff at Rosewood.*
