He's ways of making others smile, and to feel better about anything one may be going threw of life .it just wasnt in him not to do or say anything that he could to make your life feel better .he never met a stranger and is say ,those those whom may been strangers of just meeting him were treated as if he new them his whole life . He walked ,talked ,and shown in every way by his actions to care and love to everyone .I love logie , your passion for others will never be forgotten. Thank you for excepting me as your step dad .
