“ I had the pleasure of caring for Mr Burgan for the last couple years at ParkSide. One of the days I’ll never forget was him “teaching me karate” from his chair and he would look so forward to me coming in to show me more tricks. One day I made a phone call and had Mr Jessie Thornton, a huge name in the karate family from Ringgold GA. He knew who he was and was blown away that I could get him to come see him. I’ve known all my life come and surprise him. They talked for a couple of hours. We have pictures of them together and he was so happy he told everyone about that visit and showed everyone his autographed hat Jessie signed for him. He felt so good and like he was special for that day.
I will definitely miss his quirky self and all the laughs we had while karate chopping as our high five down the hall ways.
I am truly sorry for your loss, he was a wonderful human being. I wish I knew him longer and before he came to PS.
