“ My deepest condolences go out to the family. I did not know him personally, but I would like to share a comforting scripture. At John 11:11, the Bible likens death to a peaceful sleep. I truly hope that can provide some peace at this time.

“ Hey Daddy. I know you're whole now and no longer suffering. I will always love you and I'll miss you every day. Since we were told you would be leaving us I've thought about little things like when we had the blizzard in South Dakota and I thought my swing set was gone. You had to show me the top of the swing set before I'd stop crying. My most embarrassing moment as a child however was the year I asked for an "electric" watch for Christmas. Well we had Payne reunions at Aunt Dora's. I opened my present and there was my red watch. I then asked you if the electricity went out would my watch stop. Of course everyone laughed, I cried and you hugged me and explained the watch worked on a battery not electricity. As an adult, after I made my gospel music album. You were in hospital and I had copies of CD to give to family who visited. One was laying on the table when the nurse came in and you had to tell her that the CD was your daughter. I knew at that moment you were proud of me even though you never said it in words to me, you told other people. It's gonna seem strange no longer having you on this earth but I'll always have all my memories. Have fun playing with Denise and Daphne. I Love you Daddy and miss you so much all ready. Cheryl

“ My beloved Dad went home to be with the Lord after multiple years of suffering. I remember when I broke my arm in second grade. You fixed a ball of steel so I could exercise it. The doctors said I would not have full use of my arm, but that wasn't acceptable to you.. You taught me how to ride a bike and drive a car. You didn't like me watching tennis as you didn't care for sports but that's ok. I love you and will miss you until we are united in Heaven with all are family. Love. Debbie
