“ As much as we knew this day would come, it's still painful to know Charlie is not with us anymore. We had learned to love him and JoAnn, listen to his stories, and share sweet times together. He would call often just to talk, and sometimes he would call right back and tell us the same story again! He was a blessing to so many at the marina and will be missed. Based on his stories he lived a full life with many adventures, and he had the love of his wife and family. We are so sorry for your loss. He was a good man who had integrity.
