“ Although we are cousins down the line I never had the pleasure of meeting Reagan. From knowing you and your family he couldn't help but be handsome and athletic with a kind helpful personality. There was such an outpouring of love and support at the funeral home. We were lucky to have him here on Earth for such a short time. I know he's in Heaven helping all the little angels learn how to hit a baseball, throw a football, work on their golf swing or work on a farm. He can never be replaced but what wonderful memories of him everyone will cherish.

“My prayers are with the Matthews, Spradlin and Spector families. I didn't know Reagan personally except through the ballfield and my son Dylan Phillips. They played several years together and against each other on opposite teams. Reagan and Dylan were still in contact with each other hanging out beside a fire in the backyard taking about sports, trucks and school. You will be forever in our hearts. All of the past on here say he could light up a room with his smile and from his pics I can see why.
