“ To my friend, Doris, I bid a fond farewell.

Though our meeting was inauspicious our departing is filled with tears and much regret.

Such a gracious and thoughtful human searching high and low for the perfect gift often at a ridiculously low price.

She remembered details and dates; things that mattered and some that did not.

She wanted her work to match her appearance; meticulous and well kept.

Her attitude could be abrasive but who doesn't appreciate a good scrub.

As our work situation changed there would be no more random gifts left without ado on my desk; no candies, no treats, no favorite teas.

We may have retired from employment but we never retired from our friendship.

However now there will be no more hour-long phone calls catching up on the news or just gossip.

The mailman will no longer bring envelopes filled with cartoons or coupons or articles of interest.

There will be no back and forth between Nana Doris and my grandson who often received his own notes of love.

She led a life of giving not taking and was full of wisdom that she handed out freely.

I love my friend.

I will miss my friend 😞

Hilda and I were very sad to hear of the passing of the amazing Doris Brown.

Doris worked with us at the Plastic surgery group for over 20 years in the complicated logistical job of scheduling for our surgeons. She was not defined by this work but by the way she worked- with kindness, loyalty, attention to detail, and the dedication to never leave work undone and to take great care of the patient. She was frequently the last to leave the office. I'm not sure how many times she retired but, in times of need, we kept calling her back!

She talked often about her family and I know her dedication at home was just as impressive.

We will all miss her!

We are, unfortunately, out of town but send our love, thoughts and prayers. Marshall and Hilda Jemison
