“ There are so many memories of us since the third grade I can't just pick one. I guess the most memories come from when she lived with me and my family in the 50s. Doris was more than a friend, she was my "sister" also. When anyone spoke of Doris and Paul it was always followed by Patsy and Buddy. Doris and I could lay in my back yard forever making things out of the clouds. So many happy, happy memories growing up in the 1950's. Those were the best years ever...
