“ As I sit here and think about how happy you are now because you are celebrating mom's birthday with her and dancing on the clouds, but still missing you and Mom but I do know you're in a better place thanking about the younger years when I was younger riding on a Columbus bus, stopping to get the biggest ice cream I've ever seen in my life. And I just wanted to thank you. You was always there for me and my children when I needed you to be you gave up a lot when you married my mom and took on four kids you will be truly missed and thank you for everything you have ever done for me.

“ .Not a memory I have lacks grandpa Franks presence. He was a father figure to me growing up. I will always remember the times we shared together. From his cussing enthusiastic African Grey to the trips to the begal shops, throwing ball, fishing together and the weekend trips to block buster to rent the latest video game for the latest gaming console. The time I stayed with them and got to go to uncle Doug's who had the coolest in ground pool when they lived out of state for a period. Grandpa helped get me my first firearm and took me to my first trip to the gun range. The best memories i will keep was seeing first hand that love he had for me shared to all the other grandchildren and especially the great grandchildren like my son Ethan and daughters Chloe, Loralie and Josie. They all loved grammy and paps. And I know without a shadow of a doubt the feeling was mutual. Rip Grandpa

“ A lot of my earliest childhood memories involve you big brother, and Sue. I had my first shrimp cocktail and Shirley temple with you guys. Things I still love to this day. So many things I learned from you as well, like how to effectively run away from lizards! You also gave me my love for Plochmans mustard.

I wasn't ready to hit the post button yet, but I apparently did. I can hear you now...."way to go kid" while shaking your head. 😊 Seriously, I can't imagine life without you. I love you very much and I will forever cherish every moment I had with you and every memory from now until my time on earth is done. Rest in peace big brother! All my love...Kelly
