“ Papaw, not a day goes by I don't miss you. I think of things you would have said in situations, I remember how you smiled and laughed. I remember how blue your eyes always were. This life is completely different without you. The holidays have a whole in them without you. You were and always will be the greatest man in my life, I always knew without a doubt I could count on you. You were always there for my big & small moments in life no questions asked. You & nana spoiled me from the day I was born, I love you so much. I know without a doubt I'll see you again & until then we will keep your memory alive ❤️
