“ Very sorry to hear this news. George was my baseball coach for my 14 year old season. We possibly had less talent and less equipment than the other teams, but under his guidance we won the league championship and went to the state tournament. He was a wonderful coach and mentor and I always admired him and appreciated all the things he taught me. He will be missed. Condolences to the family.

“ Uncle Buddy was a kind, loving man. Not only did I love him, he ALWAYS made me feel loved. As a child I took many family vacations with my family to go see the Rhinehart clan. We always stayed with Uncle Buddy and Aunt Shirley. I have great memories of these trips.

He and Shirley drove to Texas one year to spend Christmas with us. I got a Magic Set for Christmas. Uncle Buddy let me practice tricks on him. I think I did the same trick 100 times and every time he acted surprised and amazed! He was such a great sport!!!

When I had children of my own, we too, took excursions to see Uncle Buddy. We had so much fun! They are adults now and they still talk about our great times Uncle Buddy and Shirley.

In more recent years, I've had the honor of helping the Rhinehart family hang flags in Ringgold in remembrance of Veteran's Day. Uncle Buddy was one of the founding fathers to start this tradition and every year I come I become more overwhelmed with pride for our country and those men who sacrificed so much for our freedom. What an awesome legacy he has left for his family and all others who enjoy seeing the flags waive in their glory.

Uncle Buddy will be truly missed by all who knew him - a wise and honest man who loved his family, friends, and country.

I will miss him and always love him.

“ When a loved one moves on to "love and peace" it is a sad time for those left behind for a while - to meet again is a hope and a promise. I will think of you, Shirley, and pray for you - that day of reunion will come. Love you--

“ We will miss you George "Peter Pocket" Rhinehart! As a young girl, I lived next door to George and his parents in Graysville, GA. Everyone in Graysville had nicknames back in the day. Years later, no matter where we saw George, we always called him "Peter Pocket" and we would laugh and reminisce about the Graysville days. George and Shirley have been very special to us over the years and our hearts are grieved with Shirley's today. We saw them often at Elmcroft at Shallowford Assisted Living this last year or so. Our prayers are with Shirley and ALL of the family of care givers, nieces and nephews now. We love you, sweet Shirley.

“ As long as I can remember, George and Shirley were like family. George and my dad worked most of their adult lives at the Wheland Foundry in Chattanooga, and most of the old Wheland crowd is gone now. They were a tough bunch of guys, doing hard work that was important to the transportation industry in the heyday of Chattanooga's foundry days. I want to express my appreciation to George for my family, and for the friend he was to my father.

“ My husband, Mac Poston and I first met George when we moved next door to his mom and dad in Graysville. He was a teenager at the time and later worked with Mac at Wheland Foundry. We considered he and Shirley friends. I send my condolences to Shirley and to his nieces and nephews.
