“ I came online today because the mother of a friend of ours went home to be with the Lord this week, and her funeral is tomorrow at Wilson Funeral Home. I do not know your family and never had the privilege of getting to know this precious little one, but my heart goes out to each of you. My little brother went home to be with the Lord when he was just 1 day old. He was born premature, and born at home. The ambulance could not get to the house because of a wreck on the interstate, so my grandmother had to deliver him. At the time I was a little girl, but I remember it very well. I know a little of the pain you are now experiencing, and I just wanted to let you know that I will be praying for you. Lean on the Lord through this time. He will comfort you and give you strength. When my Lord and Savior calls me home, I will get to see my little brother and finally get to love on him. What a joyful day that will be...to see Jesus face to face, and see my little brother, as well as all of my family who have gone home before me! Praying for you! God bless you during this time of grief. May He comfort you and wrap you in His everlasting arms. Mrs. Jamie Taylor

“ As I sit here with tears in my eyes, I realize I lack the words to express the deep sorrow I feel right now for your loss. We were just talking about her and you were showing me pictures on Monday morning. Now just lean on God, he'll give you the strength and peace you will need.

“ Everyone who is born has a God given purpose, to glorify our heavenly Father, no matter the lifespan of their days here on earth. Little Miss Georgia was fearfully and wonderfully made. She is a miracle reflecting the glory of our Creator. She stole our hearts. So long, until we meet again little one.
