Glenn Wayne Moore

February 15, 1954 – December 29, 2025

Glenn Wayne Moore, 71, of Flintstone, Georgia, passed away on Monday, December 29, 2025. Glenn was born on February 15, 1954, in Catoosa County, Georgia, to the late Kass and Helen Moore, and he was a lifelong resident of the Chattanooga and Northwest Georgia area. Glen loved music. You could not stump him. He could tell you the name of the song, the band, and the album for just about any song. He enjoyed photography and watching westerns. He loved to fish, hike, and be outdoors in nature whenever possible. Above all, Glenn treasured his family and enjoyed every moment with them. He was a good man with a big heart who loved big. Loved by his family and all who knew him, Glenn will be genuinely missed.

Glenn is preceded in death by his parents, Kass Nathaniel and Helen Lucile Moore; brothers, Gary Moore and Billy Wilson; sister, Linda Rogers; niece, Angie Rogers; mother-in-law, Ann Floyd; and former wife, Wanda Floyd.

Those left to cherish his memory include his children, Hollie (Duane) Barclay of Homer, Nebraska, Benjamin Moore, and William Black, both of Ringgold, Georgia; sister, Teresa Moore of LaFayette, Georgia; and several much-loved grandchildren, nieces, and nephews.

The family invites friends and loved ones to join us in remembering and honoring Glenn on Friday, January 2, 2026, from 5:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m., and on Saturday, January 3, 2026, from 12:00 p.m. to the time of the service. “ I was an only child most of my childhood and Glenn and Wanda used to take me for overnight/weekend visits. Some of my most cherished memories are of those visits. Glenn took me fishing, swimming, and blackberry picking and we had so much fun. I always knew that I was safe when I was with my Uncle Glenn. Also, as mentioned in his obituary, Glenn was "Name that tune" master and he used to play that game with me and even now I know the artists and their songs and in most cases, even all the words to the music of the 70's and 80's ! I truly loved him. May he rest in peace.
