“ Jean was a genuine person whose life was a living testimony. She loved the Lord, and it showed. She is now in a better place reunited with her loved ones, and we have the sweet promise He left with us, we will see her again. Proverbs 31: 25-28

“ Jean had such a sweet spirit, always kind and thinking of others. She always made a point to show her love and concern with each call and visit. The world has lost a good soul, but heaven gained a saint! She will be missed.

“ When Mother died, I said, there'd never be another like her. Well I was wrong. Jean was not only a wonderful God fearing woman, she was a mother just like the one I had.

With all the aches and pains, she worked hard to pay for her home and to pay for the funeral services of her husband and child. Then she went to work to pay for her own funeral.

She loved her God and then her children with all her heart. When asked recently what was the first thing she wants to do upon reaching Heaven. Her answer was to see Jesus, then her son Steve and third was mother.

A mother's love is without condition and like Like Jesus, they welcome us into their open arms. Now we'll see if her teaching have passed along to her remaining children.

Jean, you were a loved woman. I think you know that. You'll be missed here on earth and we'll look forward to seeing you when we get to Heaven. Your brother Leon

“ We were very blessed to know a God and family loving woman like my Aunt Jean and to be surrounded by so much family while growing up. The values she passed to us by so much familial bonding were a blessing from God, Aunt Jean, and the rest of our family. I'll miss her dearly and I know she'll be missed by the rest of the family but I also know she'll be visiting with the family we've already lost until we are also able to see them again. If I can be half as kind to others as Aunt Jean was to me (whether I deserved that kindness or not), I will have made progress. We love you and we'll miss you until we see you again.
