“ They say that during your lifetime, you can count the number of "true friends" on one hand... Dave has had one of those spots on my hand since 24 April 1951.
He was a good man, a patriot, a damned fine soldier, and most importantly, he was my friend!
As a seriously wounded Prisoner of War in Korea, Dave never complained, always thought of his fellow POW's and never looked for special treatment even though he was the most seriously wounded of our group! He was a man that others could look up to and say, I wish I could be more like Dave!"

Rest in peace my friend, save a place for me in that big parade ground in the sky!

Your "brother"
