“ My favorite memories of Uncle Jimmy would be when I was a little girl. Many times he would come to visit my dad and they would sit in the car together having a beer and joking. Jimmy always would bring Tracy and Chris with him and I would get to play with them. He was always cutting up with me and making me laugh. I was always so excited when he would come to visit us. He will certainly be missed. I love you Uncle Jimmy.

“ There so many it's hard to pick just one but I will try. My wedding day was one of the best days of my life and I got to share it with him. As the wedding song started to play for us to walk out he said he was so scared he hoped he didn't fall or mess up the march. He was dressed up and trying not to sweat out of his dress clothes but it was August in a little chapel. But when I took him arm to start the wedding march he said you look beautiful and he felt so honored to be giving me away. We walked out together arm and arm and I was so glad I had him there to give me away. I love you and you will always be my heart like I told you on Christmas Eve and you said you knew it now don't get me crying he said. I know that you didn't have to be but you did and that is what a daddy is made of. It doesn't take a man to have a baby but it takes a man to raise one and I thank you for that. Love your daughter Tracy

“ One of my favorite memories would be New Years Eve 2012 its a recent memory but a great one, the first New Years Eve we ever spent together. We laughed and talked til 5 A.M. when I crashed and you were still going strong. Thank you for the time we spent together and I would like to thank Jr and Traci for inviting me and Gail for sharing you with us. You will be forever in my heart and deeply missed. I love you, Brother
