How I’m gonna miss my friend. We sat together on the same pew and had many laughs. We stood beside one another in the choir and so many times we would look at one another, put our shoulders together and just sing!! I’m gonna miss so many things about him! Loved him so much! So glad though he’s not suffering anymore and one day I’ll see him again. My prayers are with all his family.

You are all in my prayers. He was one of the first people to introduce himself when I first moved to this area. I never heard him speak and unkind word. His kindness, integrity, and smile will be sorely missed in this community.

“ Pap paw Jimmy gained his wings today. Technically he was my brothers father--in-law, but to me he will always be pap-paw Dean. He was charming, welcoming and my partner in crime. He was always ready to try to trick Ray Ray into a photo or help me tease his grandsons. When I introduced him to my future husband they sat and chatted like old friends about everything under the sun. Jimmy told me later he's a keeper he knows how to have a conversation! A true southern gentleman. Helpful, loving, PROUD of his family and as in love with his wife today as the day they met. Of course he went first to prepare for his family.
