I know it has been 4 year's now since you went home days are long I still think about you all the time it's been a struggle especially them days I need you the most like right now I broke my foot and Robert has been the best husband he has really taken good care of me, kayla,cindy, and leelee has been doing there part as well kayla has been a great help, but anyways Bradlee is 7 now and he's a big nana's boy I still watch him me and him is a good team and I wouldn't have it any other way but he has a crush on a little girl in school named Abigail to cute, nicky this baby is wide open he reminds me so much of kim when she was addhd this baby is driving cindy crazy, kayla hasn't gotten any yet so maybe that's a good thing her and kids just don't blend. I only wish things were different and you were still here with us but I know your at rest now but I wanted to say thank you for being a great mom and a best friend. Love you and miss you.
