“ Words cannot convey what I want to say about this woman. She was a rock, big sister, great listener, great supporter to every one. She is in Heaven with her beloved husband Steve, together once again. As I mourn the losd of this great woman, I rejoice that she is with Our Lord. No more pain or suffering. She was ALWAYS, ALWAYS there when someone needed her. This world needs more people like her. During my darkest of hours, she was there with kind words and a soft heart and advice to help ease the pain. I will never forget Dad's birthday where he drank for the first time and us kids weren't allowed out of the bedroom, she still made sure we were ok and entertained. She called me just before Christmas just to tell me she loved all of us and missed us so much. Now I know why that was the first thing she said, she knew it would be the last time we would talk. Jan, slow dance with your husband, and say Hi to everyone else that's with you. We miss you and love you more than you know. Love always, Cora (aka non blood related sister)
