“ It's been 10 days and it still doesn't seem real. I love and miss you so much. I hope you are at rest.

I am sure you have turned in your grave at least twice because of someone trying to be 'active' in our time of mourning. We all know mom, we all know the TRUTH. ESPECIALLY me seeing how I talked to you every day.

You just rest mom, your loved ones will see you again one day. Please watch over us.

“ You are going to be missed so much. You always treated me like I was your second daughter. We shared everything with each other. I could always be honest with you, you never judged me, always encouraged me, and told me how proud of me you were. You were my second mom and I'll always be your second daughter! You were a loving and forgiving person. But some things couldn't be forgiven even by you. The rest of the family stands by that decision as well. I know how you felt till the end. You only had two daughters. Jenifer and ME! We love you!

“ Jo and I lived together when I first left home. I used to watch Jennifer while she worked at night. I was there when she first met Rick. She was always good to me. I haven't talked to her in a while but I have never forgotten her. The Jones family were my first neighbors. Her mom and my mom were best friends. Rest In Peace until we meet again my friend!

“ She was my mother. I'm her eldest daughter. I am also the mother of 6 of her grandchildren. Their names are Ken, Houston, Kris, Leighton, Alana and DeCoda. I last spoke to mom a few months back. She was in good spirits, glad to hear about the birth of my new baby and that she was now a great-grandma with the birth of her only great-granddaughter who's name is EllieAnn. I sent her pictures and she was pleased to see them. She spoke to one of my kids, said hello and that she was proud of him. It was so nice to hear her sweet voice and to know whatever grievances we had, they were no longer. I forgave her and thanked her for having her parents to raise me and allowing me the life she couldn't provide at the time. I love that the older I get the more I resemble her. I also possess her sense of humor, no nonsense mentality, work ethic and generous spirit. She was among one of the hardest working people I knew, smart and beautiful. She will be missed. Mom, until we meet again....go rest high on that mountain and may you forever rest in peace. ~ Raechel

“ The BEST Mother in the world. She loved purely and with her whole heart. She loved all her children and grandchildren. She would give you her last and never ask a question about it. She was ONE in a MILLION, a diamond in the rut. If you knew her, you knew an angel. Please keep our family in your thoughts and prayers.
