“ God please bless and watch over this family. Give his wife the spiritual guidance she needs to understand lord this is not the end. Give the family the strength to help his children through this grieving process lord. God bless his mother, this is one of the hardest things a mother has to do. But God had bigger plans for Josh and just know, this is not the end.

“ My fondest memory of Josh, was he made me watch westerns with him one night all night long.....I hated westerns, but it was kind of interesting listening to him tell me about every horse on there. Lol. He was so sweet and caring, everyone will defiantly miss him. I'm so glad he got married having a wife to complete his little family was important to him. I'm praying for the family.

“ Condolences from the Rasmussen family. Josh was such a nice and respectful young man. He built our deck a few years back and worked until well after dark, pulling his truck up with the headlights on until his battery died. Jay Neal helped him finish up the next day. He was a hard worker but always had time to talk to us and especially our son Cris. Loved getting to know him. He will be missed. Praying for all his family and friends

“ My last, funniest memory of Josh - We were having a wedding in our yard one Saturday evening in October. Josh was on a hayride that past by during the ceremony - He yelled out "Don't do it!" Everyone busted out laughing - bride,groom, preacher, guests. That is the way Josh will be remembered - always making everyone laugh. Prayers to you precious family.

Diane and Matt and the rest of the family, I am at a loss for words right now however I do want you guys to know I have been praying every since I heard the tragic news. I will continue to pray for peace, I always think of song lyrics for some reason during trials and tragic times in my life and this one came to mind this morning, "Just be held" by casting crowns. During this tragic time dont try to keep pushing, for just a little while just let Jesus hold you. I love you and miss seeing you guys everyday but I will never forget our friendship, Cheryl Hughes (LMS)
