“ Larry was my soulmate for over 42 years. What can I say about this wonderful man who was my husband, my love, my everything? He loved everyone without hesitation and unconditionally. He was saved at a Billy Graham Crusade in the 50s and he never changed his mind about choosing love as his driving force. People felt that and returned it. You knew you were safe with Larry. He was fun. He loved to tell people I married him because I was suicidal and he talked me off a bridge by promising marriage. He was brave. And a patriot. He served in the military for 10 years and was placed in harm's way more than once. He was forever rescuing stray animals and bringing them home to become members of our family. He was wise. His advice was never wrong and his understanding of any situation was always on target. He was an avid reader, so it was almost impossible to find a topic he didn't know something about. The days ahead will be different, but I can go forward building on the strength he gave me and knowing that I will soon join him in a place that's called Heaven.

This is so beautiful Sharleen. Seems that the two of you were meant to be together for so many years.

“ I was blessed to have Larry as my brother. We had such good times growing up. And in these last years, a smiley voice on the phone were so treasured. Until we meet again. Love, Dick

“ I can't Remember when I didn't know Larry. I do know that we have been friends ever since he was living on Cameron Hill and before. He would always drop by the Old Red Lantern on Wed evenings to listen to Blue Grass Express. It was on his way home and we enjoyed his stories. As Larry, got older, he developed a list of people he called to ck on. I was fortunate to be on his list. He never called to brag on himself but rather sincerely wanted to know how I was doing and how's Tammi and how old is grandson Matt. And before my mother died he always asked "How's ya Mama and em doing?" A lifetime friend, whom I, and many others will sincerely miss. Prayers and good wishes to Sharleen and family. RIP Larry Robinson, my lifetime friend.

“ Unfortunately our time knowing each other was short but I couldn't have asked for a better father-in-law.

Larry was one of the most loyal friends one could ever hope to have. Like Bill McCallie said you could always depend on him calling to check on you. I will miss those calls.
