“ I grew up living across the street from Lucille and although I have alot of memories of her, two of my most fondest memories were when she would walk to church every Sunday with Bible in hand. Another was she was an Avon representative and I remember so vividly how she would always leave us extra samples I am sure way more than she was supposed to. I can still remember to this day all those tiny tubes of lipstick that she would give me and I thought I was really something. I guess that is where my love for lipsticks started....with Lucille, our favorite Avon lady. She was a very special lady and I know she will be truly missed. Rest in Heaven Lucille....you earned it !!
