“ When I was young we would go to Ringgold to see my dads brother Alfred that was living with uncle George and aunt Susie. Then we would go see aunt Myrtle and Maggie. When Johnny and Maggie would come to the mountains they would come by and visit my dad. Abe. My grandfather John and Maggie’s grandfather was brothers. When I would work on family tree I could always call Maggie and she would help me. I loved her.

“ I used to go to Ringold with the Pierce's to visit Maggie, Johnnie and the other family that live there. Maggie was a kind, caring, sweet person. Johnnie and Maggie always welcomed everyone that visited them as if they were part of the family. Maggie would always cook for everyone and make sure that everyone had enough to eat. I will always remember how she would show off her doll collection.

“ I loved going to aunt Maggie’s because I got to see her room full of dolls. I also loved going to trick or treat at her house because you went in her house and she had a spread of candy on her coffee table. She used to make homemade candy too. She also made sure she got a picture of you in your costume. I know granny will sure miss Maggie and so will I.

“ Aunt Maggie as we called her. She never wanted you to leave when visiting with out offering and wanting to fix a meal for you. She never wanted any one to leave hungry.

May the comfort that only God can give be given to the entire family.

When I was young we would go see Maggie and Aunt Myrtle, When my Dad Abe Hullander would visit his brother Alfred that was living with Uncle George. Later When Maggie and Johnny would visit around Dahlenega they would come by and see my parents. She was always so sweet and I loved her. My grandparents died before I was born and she remembered both of them and would tell me about my granny and about my grandfather coming to Ringgold and she would be picking cotton and she would see the car he came in and she would leave the cotton and go see Uncle John, he would always bring her chestnuts and hickory nuts. I am so sorry Johnny and Dean and family. She will be missed. Jessie Hullander Souther
