“ I'm sorry baby I couldn't be there today... But you know I'll always carry your memories in my heart....I'll always love you till the day I die... Like the song you loved soo much " He Stopped Loving Her Today"

I'll look for you when I get to heaven, now that I know your there....

The song Tears in Heaven doesn't justice you, only me FOR NOW.... Until it's my turn...

I know you loved me...you always told me every time we talked... Until we see each other again...in Heaven my love....

Only Good Tears for you...No more pain and suffering....I LOVE YOU!!!

“ My brother, you will be missed. I love you even though we were not that close, but it didn't matter you were still my little brother. I remember those days that we used to play together when we lived at Lake Howard, then later on after we moved to Dry Creek Community, we had our motorcycles that we rode together. Those were some good days, we were buddies then. Then in 1976, I moved off just as you needed me most as you were becoming a teenager. Throughout those years, we began to drift apart some, but I would always drop by to see you when I was up. I remember how you loved planting and caring for your flowers. That is one thing we didn't have in common. We both loved our hot rod cars, I remember your Duster, your Mustang, your Charger, just to name a few. In the last several years, we lost our Dad and Mom, then you were all I had, now I have lost you too. Tell Dad and Mom, Hello for me and I will be seeing them someday too! I will love you my brother forever.

“ I wasn't notified of Mike's death until the day after, I know he would have wanted the rest of his family to know. It is a sad sad time, for all of us that loved him. Including myself, my daughter, Katlin..... Who was not mentioned...But he loved us as well, kept in touch.... Those who knew him, knew he was a good man. Had a heart of gold. Loved his mother very very much, his kids very very much. Although many days and yrs have passed, we still loved each other. I sure miss watching the sunsets go down with you... A memory i will always cherish. I last spoke with him not long ago... This just doesn't seem real, like a dream. But baby goodbye is only for a little while. I will always love you baby and never forget you!!! 1994---forever!!!!
