“ I haven't seen Glendle since he was a teenager, actually I was a teenager myself! I was supposed to marry your older brother Delon but alas things happen for a reason I've learned over the years and for these things I am so very grateful and I'll never ever forget and I'll always remember how sweet your Mama was to me. If it comforts your family any at all and I hope it does, it's comforted me over these years in times of loss.

*Grief never ends..... but it changes...
It's a passage....It's not a place to stay...
Grief is not a sign of weakness, nor a lack a faith...
It's the price of love.*

“ I was 5 or 6, Glendle was an upper teen (17 I think) he took me swimming somewhere, the pool up the road perhaps. Being so young, and a yankee, and with a moniker of Sal... I felt... uncomfortable. But I remember Glendle introducing me to some of his friends. When he did, he said, "this here is MY cousin... SAL." I walked taller all that day. I knew the older boys wouldn't josh with me too much or be rough. Because MY cousin, GLENDLE was looking out for me.

Life sent us down some of the same roads, but some different roads too. For most of my life I have looked up to him. My thoughts and most sincere prayers go out to his kids, mom, and siblings. My heart is in turmoil though because I will miss him... but I am rejoicing for him getting a new body and seeing his father.
