“ Anthony,
I am so sorry about the passing of your father, but I guess God loved him more than us, and was ready for him.
I will really miss him and all the fun we had on jobs. Especially with Randall picking on me all of the time (and me dishing a little back).
Our prayers are with you and your family.
God Bless,
David

“ I went to school with both Randal and Doris at Subligna. Doris was my very best friend. I have met 2 of you children at Maggies in Fort Oglethorpe several years ago. I didn't know about Doris passing until too late to be there and now because of sickness I can't come. I could share a lot of memories. Doris and I spent a lot of time together growing up. Of course Randal was around too. One Christmas my Mother made Doris and I skirts alike for Christmas. We were excited to be able to dress alike. One time she went with us to my sisters in Atlanta. My Daddy had a new pick up truck. We rode in the back of the truck all the way to Atlanta and back. Can you imagine that happening today?

Randal had a car one year and the rest of us didn't. On basketball game night, he would pick a car load of us up and we would ride with him to the school to ride the bus to the game. One night the boys in the car got to talking about snipe hunting. A bunch of us including Randall didn't know what they were talking about. On the way home they told us girls to wait in the car while they carried Randall snipe hunting. In a little while they came back to the car laughing. We asked what they were doing and they said they told him to hold the sack while they ran the snipes to him then they left him in the woods. We girls didn't think it was funny. What they didn't realize was that Randal circled around and came back and was listening to them talk. We made them go back to hunt him and he came out of the woods, got in the car and we ran off and left them to walk home. They were the ones who had to explain it to their parents and we got the last laugh. They didn't play any more tricks that I know of. So many more memories I could tell. You are in my thoughts and prayers and may God give all of you peace through this time of loss.
