“ I am so sorry for your loss. My heart goes out to you in your time of sorrow. May you let God's Word comfort you when it reads, “If an able-bodied man dies can he live again? You will call, and I myself shall answer you. For the work of your hands you will have a yearning.” (Job 14:14, 15). God will have a yearning to resurrect faithful ones.

“ *Mark, Emily, & William,
We have been blessed to know your family through Cub Scouts and felt a special connection due to issues your William and our Erin have in common. We know that it has been the most difficult couple of years of your lives, and cannot imagine what you must be feeling now that Tracy has passed. I know that you know she is whole and rejoicing with our Lord, but that does not diminish the intensity of your pain as you grieve your loss. We prayed for Tracy nightly, and will continue to keep your family in our prayers as you mourn and learn to move forward as a family, and as your hearts' empty spaces heal over time.*

We are happy to help with absolutely ANYTHING at all. We are a phone call away.

*Much love to your family,

“ My best memory is when Tracy would call me and we would talk for hours, sometimes even till my battery died on my phone, and another time was when she came to Michigan to visit. Tracy had the most amazing smile and gentle eyes of anyone I have ever known, she was full of love and children were just drawn to her.

Her love for her family was astounding, she was so proud of Emily and William and all their accomplishments.

Tracy was one determined lady, she didn't give up on things easily and never gave up on her family, she loved her husband and no words needed to be spoken to see how much he loves her, he has been her rock through this battle, he has stood strong and unwavering over the last 2 years and never once gave up on her. If all marriages had this determination and love the world would be a much better and stronger place to live.

Safe travels my dear sweet Tracy; you will forever be in my heart.

I love you!
