“ I'll always remember how welcoming Mac was when I first started attending Bethany's church 4 or 5 years ago. It wasn't even his home church - he just came with her sometimes, but I didn't know that at the time. I had back surgery over 6 years ago and have had trouble with it ever since, sometimes struggling mightily just to get through the service. Mac understood all about that having gone through something similar himself. There were times he'd sit outside with me, so I didn't have to be alone, always concerned for my comfort. He was always so kind, sincere & encouraging. And of course, just plain fun to be around. He could always cheer me up. He will be much missed.

“ Didn't have the privilege of knowing Mac but a couple of years, but I can say that he was one of the few people I've ever met that I liked right off the bat, wish I could have known him longer, very good man

“ Roger is my Bub and I am his baby sister. He has loved me all my life. He began showing that love when I was just a baby. He would pull his wagon around the yard with me holding on to the back learning to walk . He was my babysitter while mother took piano lessons; fed me butter cookies to help control the crying. He had a paper route when he was 13 or 14 and he bought me a tricycle and a scooter. He told me last week as I was leaving to " Stay out of the spokes". This was a reference to an accident we had on his bicycle. He was doubling me sitting side saddle on the bar and my foot got caught in the front wheel. He was pretty scared. He was out in the middle of Cove Rd trying to flag down help, when daddy came along on his way home for lunch and doc Shields was right behind him. He was a dear brother and I will miss him very much. See you on the other side Bub
