“ My son youre already missed more than I can put into words... I know you knew I loved you and will love you until my last breath. You were loved by many many people and I don't think you ever had a clue about just how many people your beautiful heart affected . I have received so many friend requests over the past few days from people and i have literally lost count at this point. You made a huge difference and impact while you were growing up and thats something awesome to be proud of. I couldnt be more proud of my son and to be privileged enough to be your mother. Please keep us all protected and send me signs and reminders often so i feel you with me at all times . I cant make it thru this any other way baby boy. God Speed Little Man !

“ I hope your dancing. I hope the angels know what they have. You were the best friend, brother, and uncle anyone could ever have. We love you dearly! Life isn't fair to us right now, but we all know in our hearts you are in a better place. I'd give anything to see your face again and get a hug. It doesn't seem real and it's unfair. I love you and I know Pawpaw and nanny are enjoying you being there with them. My precious angel has a uncle with him/her. You got the excitement to know before we did. We love you so much bubba and know you are watching over us.

You would do anything for anybody and had the most kind hearted soul. You were too good for this cruel world, and I know your resting in peace now with your pawpaw and nannie ❤️ I'm thinking of you everyday, and I know your watching over everyone ❤️ I love you forever ❤️*
