I just learned of Shirley's homegoing. When I was growing up her father, Herbert, was pastor at Bethel Baptist Church in North Rhea County. I was just learning to play the piano during those years and when Shirley and Carl came to visit, I was always so inspired by how beautifully she played the piano. She tried to teach me cords so that I could improve my skills, but I never had enough time with her. The Trues are my second family and I will always love them.
