“ There are so many it's hard to say.
when Cindy our daughter had her first birthday all her cousins, which were all boys at the time came to her party.
They all had a great time and brought some of the cutest presents that you could imagine. They were all older than her and gave her a hard time but Stevie, Richie, Mike, Mark and Timmy called her and treated her like she was a little princess.

I guess the real memory I have was when I would try to gave Stevie every other week to check on him and he never would complain about how he felt he would say Aunt Mimmie , none of them could say Aunt Jimmie, please pray for me and that would always make me cry because I know he was hurting. Before we would hang up I would always tell him I loved him and he would tell me the same.
But one day we will see all our loved ones gone on before us and I know he is seeing all of them but especially Jesus.

With all my love I will miss him.

“ I was able to see Stevie this past March when my parents and my 2 boys Jimmy and Matt came down for Spring Break, we had fun talking about all the fun we used to have at Maw Maw's house playing super heroes and we laughed because Stevie would never let me be Batman all because I was a girl. (my boys still think the story is funny) He will be greatly missed and Heaven has welcomed a new angel to watch over us all. I love you Stevie.

We send our love and prayers, Knowing God's love will keep you at this sad time.
