“ Timmy and I spent a lot of weekends together at our Grandma & Grandpa Parrish's house as kids. Grandpa Parrish took us both coon huntin' one weekend. We were both around 8 or 9 years old. We thought we were going to get to chase those dogs and shoot coons. Little did we know all we got to do was sit around a fire with a bunch of old guys listening to the dogs bark at coons in the distance. The old men eventually left to look for the dogs, but we had to stay behind. We slept, or tried to sleep, in the cab of Grandpa's pick-up truck. It was freezing cold, dark and we had no blanket. We huddled together to try to stay warm. In the middle of the night we heard a horrible noise and we just knew it was a bear and it was going to eat us both. We were terrified. We were afraid to get out of the cab all night. The next morning when we awoke. We got out of the truck and found our bear. It was Grandpa Parrish. He had went to sleep on the tailgate and was snoring. If you ever heard Grandpa Parrish snore, you will know how loud that can be. Even though I haven't seen Timmy in a long time, I will miss him. I love you cousin Tim. God Bless you and your family.
