“ *I could not believe this when I read it?
Tylor was a great kid, and always willing to help anyone, in any way he could.
He helped me many times around the shop, when Cox Floor Co was next door, and at one time I lived and worked there for a sometime.
When the storms came thru Rossville in 2011, and many were without power, we had generators, but many had not been ran in a long time. We spent time trying to get them going for power, but could not get them straightened out and running right. Tylor came over, and took a look at them, did a couple things, and within 10 minutes generator was up and running like new. Always a delightful young man, and enjoyed many conversations with him. So sorry for your loss Randy & Cynthia

“ My sweet Ty, we talked so often about so many things. He knew I didn't care what time it was, if he need to talk I was always ready to listen. He was such a sweet and intelligent young man. He was always helping the homeless and anyone that needed him. I can't count how many times he just came by to check on me. The one thing I know for sure is that every since he met Summer back in 2014, I think it was. He loved only her, she was every thing to him and he talked about her every time we talked. Tyler may not have been perfect but, who is? I never judged him or gave up on him and he knew I never would. I just don't know how you move past this. I love you baby boy, for ever.
