“ She was one of the best women you'll ever have met. My grandma was one to love almost everyone she met, but if she didn't like you she'd let you know in a heartbeat. She was loving, caring, kind and so much more. She would have gave the shirt off her back to anyone in need. I always think of her so much more around this time of year. She was the one who held the family dinners that kept everyone together. I will never forget the homemade fudge she made and sent home with us by the pound. I love you Grandma and you're very missed by us all.
