“ I'm really going to miss you Aunt Wanda Lynn, remembering our time together going to church with you, Michael and Robbie. You would come pick us up every Sunday morning and Sunday and Wednesday night until we got our own car. You were such an inspiration to our little family in the beginning, Robbie was just a baby until he was a young boy and then he became interested in the Royal Rangers at my mom's church, and you told me as long as you stay on the right path. You've been there through my best days and my worst days. You will be missed greatly here on earth. We all know where you're headed and will see you again soon. I know there's a heavenly homecoming for those waiting for you in heaven.
