“ This was the last time I got to take Wade out to eat which he loved to do. I never knew what I was going to walk into on my days of taking care of him. He kept me on my toes because I didn't know if or when he was going to scare me. If he didn't scare me then he was picking on me but I wouldn't trade the year and a half I took care of him for anything in this world. He brightened my days more than I brightened his. He was my side kick and partner in crime. When we would go to yard sales or to Goodwills I would tell him that Belinda is going to beat me because he would want to buy books, records, CDs and movies to add to his collections. He would say no she won't I'll whip her and we would just laugh. I never got beaten but Belinda would tell me all the time I spoiled him. That I did. I spoiled Wade big time. I'm going to miss him big time. I love you Wade. I'll see you soon.
